

NISAW

NATIONAL INVASIVE
SPECIES AWARENESS WEEK

National Invasive Species Awareness Week 2020

Sample Social Media Posts

There are many ways you can help protect our natural spaces from #InvasiveSpecies during #NISAW. Find an event near you at <https://www.nisaw.org/>

Burmese pythons are an #InvasiveSpecies in Florida. They eat native species and federally endangered species like the wood storks and Key Largo woodrats. Learn more on what you can do to help during #NISAW and beyond at <https://www.nps.gov/ever/learn/nature/burmhowtohelp.htm> #BurmesePythons

The annual losses to the Great Lakes Region, because of ship-borne #InvasiveSpecies, is at least $200 million. Learn more about what you can do this #NISAW to stop the spread at <http://stopaquaticinvasive.org/prevention/#clean-drain-dry>

The annual US cost from #InvasiveSpecies is $120 billion, with a minimum of 100 million acres being affected (i.e. the size of California). Learn more about how you can advocate for their management this #NISAW at <https://extension.umn.edu/courses-and-events/empoweru-advocating-invasive-species-management>

#SpottedLanternfly feeds on a wide range of fruit, ornamental and woody trees. If allowed, this pest could seriously impact the country's grape, orchard, and logging industries. Find out what you can do to stop this #InvasiveSpecies #NISAW

<https://www.aphis.usda.gov/aphis/resources/pests-diseases/hungry-pests/slf/spotted-lanternfly>